

WHAT WAS HIS NAME?

Body of an Unknown Discovered
Near Sibley Street.

GHASTLY FIND OF TWO BOYS

Body Badly Decomposed and With
No Means of Identification.
Probably a Suicide.

No ghastlier find was ever made in Grand Rapids than that of little Percy Brown and Hoopie Limbrey. Last evening as these boys were passing through a lumber yard, in the rear of the building where Sibley street, they found the half decomposed body of a man concealed in the rank weeds which surrounded. The boys were badly frightened and ran screaming from the awful sight.

A crowd soon collected in the yard, but the stench was so great that no one could stand within several yards of the body. Coroner Bradish was called and he immediately ordered Undertaker Koch to bury the body in the potter's field.

No one was able to identify the body. A few scraps of paper on the pockets of his clothes were examined, but nothing appeared to give any idea as to who he had been. The body, which had evidently lain where it was found for more than a week, appeared to be that of a man 35 or 40 years old. His chin was covered with a growth of brown whiskers. He wore a suit of fairly good clothes, but was evidently a laboring man. A small drugstore envelope from Chappell's store on Stocking street lay near the body. It was labeled "Morphine." There was no other clue to the manner of death. A workman in the lumber yard said he saw a man lie down back of the works last Saturday afternoon. He called to the man who simply raised his head and lay down again. He could not give a description of the man and as the body appeared to have been dead at least a week it is not believed to be the same one he saw Saturday. Coroner Bradish will not summon a jury but will make a full investigation. He believes it to be a clear case of suicide.

The league will meet the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. The object of the society is the promotion of knowledge regarding municipal matters among the women of the city. The following officers were elected: for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. D. E. Stevens; vice president, Mrs. H. M. guest; recording secretary, Mrs. Ann C. Jackson; treasurer, Mrs. Mary C. Norum, as one of the trustees the remainder was deferred until the next meeting of the council.

Said Edith Was Innocent. The jury which tried Edith M. Ray for adultery found her not guilty, because of insufficient evidence. It was not proven that No. 300 Canal street was a respectable place, and the cook at No. 300 Canal was not produced to testify as to the facts of the infidelity between Mrs. Ray and Charles E. Nault. It was claimed that the cook could not be found, though she has been seen on the streets within the past few days.

Found His Room. C. E. Conroy, a bachelor at the Bridge Street home, reported to the police yesterday that he had been robbed of $20 and a pair of pants. The money was in his trunk in the hotel and his pants were hanging on the wall. He has no idea of who the guilty man is.

Challenge to Golfing. Martin Gibbons challenges William Coffey, the burlesque pugilist of Detroit, for a fifteen round glove contest, or any way he would like to arrange a match. Fight to come off in ten days.

Result of a Bad Fight. A crowd which attracted many Poles to Justice Brown's court was a trial yesterday. On September 3 a dance was held in Public hall, at which the flow of beer was more than liberal. Frank Dykiewicz, a member of the society, had invited his brother to the hall, but for some reason an attempt was made to put him out. A fight ensued, in which M. Smolinski, the bartender, and Ludwik Smolinski took part and rather roughly handled the Dykiewicz boys. The latter sued the Smolinski boys for $50 damages.

AFTER A CORPORATION.

Reed's Lake Avenue Toll Road Considered a Nuisance.

However the residents of East Grand Rapids may differ on some subjects, they are of one mind on the subject of the toll road. The Reed's Lake Avenue toll road has been signed by all classes of citizens and has been delivered to the highway commissioner of the township. We, the undersigned voters and taxpayers of the township of Grand Rapids request immediate attention in regard to taking such legal action as to cause an injunction to be issued to restrain the Reed's Lake Toll Road company from collecting toll on either branches of said gravel road until the company has fully complied with all the requirements of the charter or franchise of said toll road in regard to keeping it repaired, scraped, graded, etc., and in case of failure to comply with these requirements at the expiration of thirty days to begin action to forfeit the franchise of said toll road.

There is about one and one-third miles of this gravel road within the city limits, and a committee of the council was appointed last spring to take steps to purchase or condemn it. Nothing has been done by the committee so far as is known. Now that the village is working along the same line, this committee may revive and aid them in ridding the city of a nuisance. That portion of the road inside the city is in bad condition at all times. From East street to the Junction of Lake Avenue and Cherry street it is in particularly bad shape and is actually dangerous after dark. Those who circulated the petition say they are in earnest and propose to go into court to test the matter, if necessary.

Laid the Corner Stone.

Bethany Reformed Church on East Street Prospers.

The corner stone of Bethany Reformed church was laid at 5 o'clock last evening with appropriate ceremonies. The church is a new one less than six months old, but it has an energetic pastor, an energetic congregation and will soon have a pretty home of its own all paid for. The building is located on the west side of East street, near Fulton street, and while not a large structure is neat in design and plenty large enough for present needs. The pastor is the Rev. J. Lamar. S. J. Osgood designed the church and was present and took part in the ceremonies. The Rev. C. Rickard of the Third Reformed church was also present and addressed the congregation. The Rev. J. Lamar was called to preside over the destinies of the church but three months ago and from the first it has prospered. Meetings have been held in the old dance and prize fighting room of the Boulevard and have been well attended. There are now fifty-one members. Much of the work on the building has been contributed by members of the church, and the cash expended on the structure will not be so large as it would be otherwise. The congregation was called to order by the pastor, who offered a prayer and made a few remarks. A choir of fresh young voices sang a hymn and the Rev. C. Rickard addressed the congregation briefly. He was followed by Mr. Osgood, and the services closed with prayer and a hymn for the choir.

MUCH DIFFERENT. Leader Bertram of the Muskegon Band Denies It.

Leader L. O. Bertram of the Muskegon band makes a much different statement regarding the trouble over a board bill at the Fletcher Place than the one printed yesterday morning. Mr. Bertram says the talk about the board bill occurred prior to the band concert, and had no connection whatever with the award. He objected to the band being compelled to pay their own hotel expenses, as it is customary where bands go abroad for the local committee to pay their expenses. Landlord Mosier was a member of the committee and Mr. Bertram says the matter was left for the decision of a majority of that body. Second and third money has been divided between the Detroit and Muskegon bands, as the scoring gave the one 75% and the other 75% per cent. This latter fraction was not a unit, and therefore both bands should properly be given the unit—75 each. The Muskegon band is composed of gentlemen, and has no intention of beating hotel bills.

LONG SERVICE. Twenty-seven Years a Director in the Y. M. C. A.

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Young Men's Christian association to take action on the death of Moreau S. Crosby was held last evening. A committee consisting of the president and secretary was appointed to draft suitable resolutions. It was voted to attend the funeral in a body. A committee of three was appointed to make preparation for a memorial service to be held in Association hall on Sunday afternoon, September 24, at 4 o'clock. Mr. Crosby was one of the organizers and the first president of the association in 1893, holding that office for five years. He was a director from the date of the organization to that of his death, a continuous service of twenty-seven years. As chairman of the building committee he was closely identified with the great progress of the recent years, and was happy in the consummation of long cherished hopes.

HIT THE RIGHT KEY

All Unemployed Men Will Go To The Society

OF THE ORGANIZED CHARITY

And Will Either Be Given Work or Hired if They Are Deserving.

Nearly 400 laborers, who were out of work and in need, met at the north entrance of the court house yesterday morning during the rain, and called for Mayor Stuart to tell them what would be done for them to relieve their suffering and the suffering of their families.

Mayor Stuart came before them and spoke for a few moments. He was shown the utmost courtesy and attention. A large number were Hollanders and an interpreter repeated Mayor Stuart's words to them.

Mayor Stuart began his talk to those assembled by briefly explaining that at present several of the various city funds were overdrawn, and that with a view to economy it was not thought best to inaugurate or prosecute any extended public improvement during the remainder of this year. The improvements already provided for were made and under way, if pushed to their utmost, could not give employment to more than a very limited number, and while the city had power to borrow money and proceed with this work, it was not deemed expedient to do so. While regretting that so unfortunate a condition of affairs existed and feeling that prompt measures of relief should be taken to care for all needy persons, he and the city as a whole were almost powerless. Already he had done all within his power to find out and relieve these actually in need. He then suggested that they organize in their various wards and through their societies, or pastors, or adherents, or supervisors, or some one selected by themselves; that they make a list of all who were in actual necessity, taking their names, addresses, places of residence, and as far as possible persons discovered report them to him, or some one of the charitable societies of the city. In this way all could be provided for or helped. He then pointed out that to commence aiding indiscriminately, or to place relief where it could be reached by the avaricious, would tend to confusion and in the end be of little benefit to those in actual want.

At the conclusion of the address, the crowd gathered in the main aisle of the court house, and in a quiet and orderly manner discussed the mayor's suggestion. Those present seemed to look upon it with favor, and a little later all had quietly dispersed as they had gathered.

Charity Society to the Rescue. Mayor Stuart, Postmaster Moerdyke, Street Commissioner Farnsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Alderman Wurzburg, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Gilbert, A. O. Crozier, J. W. Rosenthal, T. Stewart White and Mrs. E. P. Fuller met last night in the office of the Organized Charity society to discuss matters pertaining to the giving of work to unemployed men and methods of prosecuting the work of the society.

Mayor Stuart said he had called in the street commissioners to listen to the discussion and learn how the society was working. He asked the commissioners to report to the society when they employed men and to them by the society, and to report when they discharged a man, so that the society could tell when a man was working for the city and at the same time drawing from the poor department. Mr. Farnsworth said he had nine men, Mr. Niffin had thirty-four and Mr. Venema had seven at work. They agreed to report as often as necessary to the society.

Mayor Stuart asked the society if it would agree to do all the investigating for the city postmaster, and asked if the postmaster would agree to abide by the reports of the society. Mr. Gilbert replied for the society that it was willing to do all the investigating. Mr. Moerdyke and the committee agreed to report all applicants for aid to the society and abide by its decisions. Therefore when next any one calls on Mayor Stuart he will send them to the society, where each case will be investigated thoroughly, and work will either be supplied or they will be given food, but no one will receive aid until his case has been thoroughly investigated.

C. O. S. Notes. Any one who has a second-hand coat suit that he can't please send a card to No. 139 North Division street. A needy woman wishes to buy it on small payments. Another fairly recently made a second hand coat store. If any person has one packed away where "moth and rust" will corrupt it, they can lay up treasures here below by lending it to a worthy family we know.

With a busy day in view and more work among the sick than one pair of hands could do, great was the joy of the district nurse of the C. O. S. when in answer to a telephone Miss Keating of the U. B. A. said: "Yes, you may have one of our nurses for half a day." She came and attended to three fever patients.

"I can black stoves and put them up well," said a fine colored man to the society this morning. "No trouble in finding you work when the first frost comes," was the answer, for she knew the public would send many such orders.

Another blessed soul worked half a day in sorting over and arranging the articles in the loss closet. Much more work needed there, and so as the work increases our hearts will not sink if the volunteer workers only multiply.

A man at Trufant, Michigan wants a man between 35 and 40, steady, industrious and of good habits, to work for him a month or two. He could stay all winter, if he wishes, and do chores for his board.

Another dear woman went in to visit a forlorn family where there are three confined to their rooms, and declared that she was sure she did some good, for she got every one to laughing before she left.

Of all the scores of women who have applied for work but one has expressed a willingness to work in the country. Yesterday a woman called, who said she would work in the country or anywhere.

The Charity Organization society knows of a good, trusty man, who is a skilled workman and can do all sorts of repairing about houses. The man can be recommended.

A young lady has volunteered to do work among the sick for one-half day each week and did good work on an easy case Monday forenoon.

A man in Byron Center notified the society that he has work for a man at $10 for at least a month.

We know of several good women who want steady washing.

To the Public. The recent and very unfortunate affair that occurred in my store, of which Joseph Tulip and myself were the participants and which has been given considerable newspaper notoriety, has caused me to pursue a step I very much dislike, I desire to place myself properly before the public, simply because several papers published a garbled account of the affair, in some cases reporting the matter erroneously in many respects. I wish to say that I was not the aggressor, and I have repented with meanness to prove such. No one dislikes unpleasant notices more than myself. I am not a fighter but a shoe dealer, located at 87 Monroe street. I stand prepared at any moment to prove conclusively that I do not owe Mr. Tulip even one cent, and that his statements are absolutely false.

TEETH!

Beautiful teeth are a luxury few possess. We have heard people say they would give anything they had for such beautiful teeth as so and so had.

The true secret is not so much in the perfection of the teeth as in the snow like whiteness and the brilliant polish.

All teeth are capable of this with proper care. Washes and pastes should be avoided as they are injurious as are also many of the powders. A properly prepared powder, however, is the right and perfect thing to cleanse and preserve the teeth. This we have succeeded in producing after much labor and expense. The formula is by one of the most noted dentists of this country and is absolutely perfect.

SAFODINIA—is the name we have adopted for it, and we are the exclusive owners and manufacturers. We guarantee Safodinia to be the perfect and best tooth powder on the market. That it will prevent decay and render the teeth more beautiful with less trouble than any other preparation to be had.
